

Welcome to Eagar!

Nestled at the base of the White Mountains in northeastern Arizona, the Town of Eagar serves as a central point to the region's recreational opportunities. Whether it's winter skiing, fall colors, warm spring weather, or cool summer nights, Eagar is a natural choice for tourists. A low crime rate, small-town atmosphere, easy access to major transportation hubs, and affordable quality of life make Eagar a popular choice for small business expansion or relocation.

Four Seasons of Wonder...

highlight the quality of life that is experienced in the Town of Eagar. From skiing, ice fishing, and snowmobile rides, to camping, hunting, hiking, fishing, horseback riding, and mountain biking—nowhere can you experience cleaner air and cool summer breezes.

A Rich History

In the late 1800s, the Eagar family homesteaded this part of northeastern Arizona among the tall ponderosa pines. Central to several small homesteads, the town was formed under the name "Union" as a symbol of unity among the small settlements in the area. Incorporated in 1948, the town changed its name back to Eagar in honor of the original homesteaders. Along with its neighbor Springerville, the two communities are collectively known as Round Valley.

At an elevation of 7,000 feet, Eagar lies at the crossroads of several major thoroughfares in northeastern Arizona. Today, natural resources are still a small part of the community's industries. Two power plants and the tourism-recreation industry form a substantial portion of the town's employment base, while ranching, retail, and forest industries help to diversify the town's economy.

It's no wonder that tourism is a large part of Eagar: with over 2 million acres in the adjoining Apache-Sitgreaves National Forest, numerous lakes, and miles of pristine trout streams, tourists from Arizona and New Mexico flock to Eagar each year. Combined with winter skiing, sledding, and sightseeing, it's no wonder why Eagar has become a popular tourist destination.

Eagar, like all of Southern Apache County, is a designated Enterprise Zone, which can mean substantial tax savings for businesses expanding or relocating in the region.

Relocating

Interested in moving your family or company to our community? You'll find abundant opportunities and a small-town atmosphere to grow a business or a home.

View PDF